I object GST.

GST will be an additional burden to the lower-class. For example, the reason the lower-class people travel by bus is because they lack of money. It is ridiculous if GST is added on the bus fare.

Suggestion: progressive tax system on profit tax. While a 5% GST on the lower-class would be a terrible burden to them, an additional 1% profit tax on the company who makes HK$100 million a year surely would not be a problem. An additional HK$1 million profit tax to this kind of rich company is trivial but an additional HK$0.5 GST on bus fare would be a hard impact on the lower-class.
