Dear FS,

I think many citizens will support GST if they have consider seriously. In fact my friends do support GST. As long as there are enough compensation for the poor, low income and those paying income tax below or around standard rate, it could help HKSAR to broaden its income and let the high income class and rich people pay more as they consume more (In fact they could afford more than that).

As for the income tax, I hope (in fact many citizens hope) you could pay more consideration on those who are paying tax below or around the standard rate.

With Regards,
