Dear Sir,

When there is deficit, you cut allowance, increase range percentage, now there is large surplus (may be much more than you expect) why not resume to the previous position? BE FAIR, I think you do not expect a poorer economic environment in the coming one or two years (if there are unforeseen circumstances, you may let the tax payers pay more by that time).

YOU SHOULD RECONSIDER THE IMPLEMENT OF GST, like other implemented developed countries, let those have the potential to spend more to pay more (as long as there are enough compensation for the low income classes). In fact, all regilative council members, parties know the necessity of GST, they say no because they afraid to loose supporters in the coming elections.
