Dear Mr. Tang

I totally agree to your budget for the coming year this morning;

One thing I believe you have left out is the sector which comprise of those people who are not yet reached the retirement age and with no jobs, no contributions to the society.

I believe it is an unwanted waste of valuable human resources.

According to the principle (to help the poor to help themselves) May I suggest the followings:

Regular seminars on topics like:

- to improve the qualities of the management;
- to identify good opportunities to grow the business of the small and medium enterprises and when to grow
- understanding the market and read the direction of trend and how to better the distribution network;

I am sure there are lots of people out there, who have there own ideas on the above and other topics and I am one of them.

Best regards from

Tsang Chiu Tak ,Jack
